Let's Start!

What will the future bring?

Learning Outcome

Accurately use information about people's jobs and places of work in communicative situations.

Ask your partner:

- What courses are you taking now?
- Why did you choose those courses?
- What plans do you have for your future?
- How are you preparing to make your plans happen?

Can Do Statements

- I can talk about jobs and work.
- I can talk or report about actions, events or people.
- I can say what I was doing when something else happened.

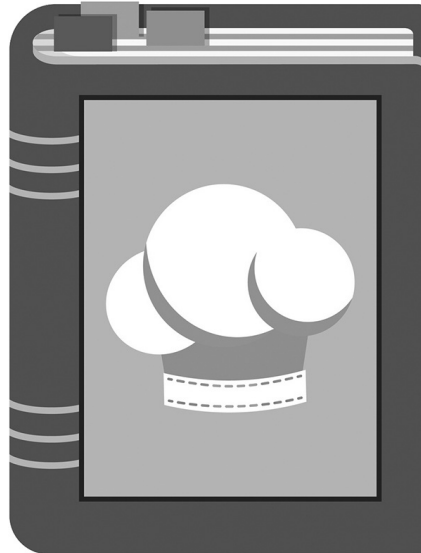

Let's Explore!

Vanessa and Peter are discussing the future!

* "The future" is what we see ahead of us in our work life and daily life.

Instructions: Read the text aloud.

- Vanessa: I was thinking about the future yesterday while I was working. I was talking with some of the other chefs after we finished our shift. Most said they were planning to work at a hotel or cafe when they were done.
- Peter: Were you planning to do the same thing?
- Vanessa: No, I always wanted to have my own place.
- Peter: You mean opening a restaurant?
- Vanessa: Maybe a small place to begin. I also thought I could put together a cookbook.
- Peter: That sounds great. You'd need an editor and a publisher or web designer.
- Vanessa: Hmmm. I'll have to think about that. What were you planning on doing?
- Peter: When I started out, I wanted to run a company. After I saw how many hours my bosses at MechaTech put in, I changed my mind. They worked incredibly long hours. It never stopped.
- Vanessa: Planning for the future was easier when it was farther away!
- Peter: I know exactly what you mean!

Learning Points

Simple Past tense versus Past Continuous tense

You use the Simple Past tense to talk about events that are finished.

You use the Past Continuous to talk about events or actions that were happening at a time in the past.

Simple Past tense verbs can be regular or irregular.

Regular verbs end in -ed or -ied.

Irregular verbs change in different ways.

For questions in the past, you use the auxiliary did followed by the verb in the base form, like Did you ask ... ?

Did is the past form of to do.

For Past Continuous, we add was/were + verb -ing to verbs.

Some verbs need a change to the last letter to add ing.

Some verbs like want and know are stative and do not use a Continuous tense.

Present	Past	Past Continuous
talk	talked	was/were talking
think	thought	was/were thinking
finish	finished	was/were finishing
plan	planned	was/were planning
start out	started out	was/were starting out
put together	put together	was/were putting together
know	knew	---
want	wanted	---

Examples:

- They were hoping to open a hotel when the time was right.
- She was putting together a second book when the first one was published.
- I thought I could put together a cookbook.
