Let's Start!

So many people are graduating!

Learning Outcome

Describe characteristics of different people and their jobs.

Ask your partner:

- Who goes to see students graduate where you live?
- Are there a limited number of seats available?
- Is there a party afterward?

Can Do Statements

- I can describe people's appearance.
- I can express surprise.
- I can talk about plans, arrangements and current actions.

Let's Explore!

Peter and Camilla spot their families in the crowd.

* To "spot" means to see or notice.

Instructions: Read the text aloud.

- Peter: There are so many people here!
Camilla: Everyone is dressed up!
Peter: Unbelievable! I'm glad I'm wearing my good clothes then.
Camilla: That older woman over there in the red suit owns a company.
Peter: No!
Camilla: Oh! My mom is standing over there taking off her pale blue coat. She's got long brown hair.
Peter: Really? My dad is sitting down front. Do you see him? He's in the grey striped jacket.
Camilla: Wow! You look just like him!
Peter: Yeah. We do look a bit alike. People often say that.
Camilla: They're starting. See the short man with the gold cap and gown? He's the chancellor.
Peter: No kidding!
Camilla: Someone is getting ready to speak.
Peter: I hope the speeches go well!
Camilla: I'm closing my eyes until it starts.
Peter: Don't fall asleep!
Camilla: Don't worry. I'm listening.

Learning Points

Expressing Surprise

Here are some expressions of surprise.

Really?

Wow!

Wow, that's amazing!

Go on!

You don't say!

Is that right? No kidding!

No!

Unbelievable!

Examples:

- John: Oh boy, my family is out there in the audience!
- Peter: Wow, mine too!

The Present Simple Tense vs. The Present Continuous Tense

You use the Present Simple tense to talk about routines -- things that don't change.

You use the Present Continuous tense to talk about actions that are happening now.

Examples:

- Everyone is dressed up!
- I'm glad I'm wearing my good clothes then.
