Let's Start!

We're standing on the edge of the future!

Learning Outcome

Accurately use information about methods of communication and communication technology in common social situations.

Can Do Statements

- I can talk about jobs and work.
- I can say what I'm doing in the future.
- I can say what I was doing when something else happened.

Ask your partner:

- What will you do when you finish this course?
- Take another course?
- Go on to other studies?

Let's Explore!

Peter is the valedictorian? He must be dreaming!

* You say someone "must be dreaming" when he or she says something that cannot possibly be true.

Instructions: Read the text aloud.

Peter's Dream Valedictorian Speech

As the top-ranking student in our business class, it's my job to inspire you!

What a year it was! We worked while we were studying. We read while we were eating lunch! When we went to class we were constantly producing. How did I rise to the top? I was born to be in business! What were you born to do?

What will we do now? We may not all get the job of our dreams. We may have to start at the bottom and work our way to the top. We might be lucky and find that perfect place. Only time will tell.

I want to thank our teachers. We loved those stimulating accounting classes. I will always be grateful to Mr. Philips. I am sure many of you feel the same way!

Now let's get out there and make a difference. We are the future!

Let's Practice!

Learning Points

The Modals May, Might, Will

You use the modals may and might to show possibility. They have the same meaning. You use the modal will to predict the future in a more certain way.

Modals are followed by a verb in the base form. This is the infinitive without to, like: study, take.

Examples:

- I think my speech may be entertaining.
- I might do well in this class.
- I will get a job right after college.
