Let's Start!

Pronunciation Spot: The end of a chapter.

Learning Outcome

Identify and describe plans for the organization of events.

Ask your partner:

- Do you get nervous in front of crowds?
- Do you feel some anxiety?
- Describe the last time you had to speak in front of people.

Can Do Statements

- I can use and pronounce the sound /z/
- I can pronounce the sound /t/ between consonants.
- I can identify key information in a short audio.

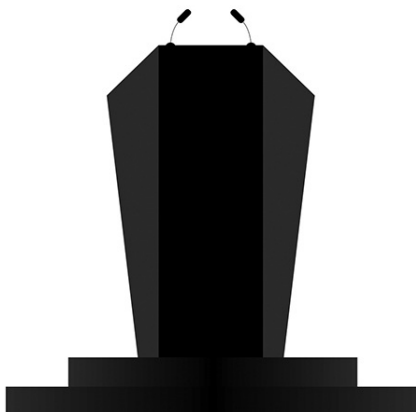

Let's Explore!

Listen to Peter and Sally talk about Peter's upcoming graduation.

* "Upcoming" is another way to say coming soon.

Instructions: Read the text aloud.

- Vanessa: You must be excited about your convocation ceremony.
Peter: Yeah, I am. Thanks for the clothing tips. I need to look sharp in front of the crowd. Do you like my new haircut?
Vanessa: Yes, I do. You look like a future business man.
Peter: Of course not.
Vanessa: Are you ready for your big day?
Peter: I might have some anxiety. I'll be very nervous! What if I trip on my way to the podium to collect my degree?
Vanessa: Don't be silly. Where is the ceremony again?
Peter: I'm not sure which room exactly but it's in Oslington Hall.
Vanessa: I heard the hall is over 150 years old, a real piece of Cambridge history.
Peter: Many of the rooms contain artwork, statues and enormous chandeliers.
Vanessa: Wow, sounds impressive. I already spoke to my boss about taking time off work.
Peter: We should go out after and celebrate. College was a challenge but I kept going.
Vanessa: Absolutely! Thursday is just around the corner ...

Let's Practice!

Let's zoom* through these words! Time to practice the /z/ sound.

How To Pronounce the /Z/ Sound

The z sound is voiced. This means that that your throat vibrates when you pronounce the sound. Place your hand on your throat when you say these words:

Thursday, zero, exactly

To make the sound, place your tongue close to your teeth. Keep your tongue tense as you push air through from the tip of your tongue to the back of your front teeth. Your mouth should be almost closed.

You should be able to make this sound for a few seconds with even and smooth pronunciation.
